Did You Know?

A Running Brushy History Lesson

Running Brushy was the name of the first post office for the community that eventually became what is now Cedar Park. The namesake of the Running Brushy community was a local spring, whose constant flow served as the all-important source of drinking water for the area's first settlers.

Travisso is a place for learning to flourish, and that doesn't end when you leave the community. Travisso is located within the Leander Independent School District, which is known for its outstanding schools and has earned multiple recognized honors for its academic excellence. Currently, Travisso students attend Mason Elementary School, Running Brushy Middle School, and Cedar Park High School. These schools are located nearby and buses are provided. If your family is looking for a private school option, Sterling Classical School is a great option. Additionally, the school district has purchased land on Travisso Parkway for a future elementary school as the community grows. Austin Community College is also nearby for those looking to further their education as adults.
